Housing: A Vaccine for Healthier Children and Families

Speaker

Megan Sandel, MD MPH, is Associate Director of the GROW clinic at Boston Medical Center, Principal Investigator with Children's HealthWatch and Associate Professor of Pediatrics at Boston University Schools of Medicine and Public Health. For nearly 20 years, Dr. Sandel, through research and advocacy, has championed the idea that affordable housing serves as a "vaccine" for healthier children. Dr. Sandel's work underscores the importance of the "housing first" approach to homelessness and calls upon housing and health providers to work more closely together.
